

Holy Communion: You and I in Christ

*The Eleanor Malburg
Eastern Churches Seminar*

October 9-10, 2009

Notre Dame College
4545 College Road
South Euclid, Ohio 44121

This is the 25th annual Eastern Churches

Seminar. It is open to all clergy, religious and laity of the Eastern and Western churches, and is especially helpful for religion teachers and pastoral ministers to aid their understanding of the Eastern traditions.

Holy Communion: You and I in Christ: The Divine Liturgy or the Holy Eucharist is indisputably the central act of worship of Catholics and Orthodox. Although the ritual and theological emphases differ in a number of ways, the ancient Christian teaching found especially in St. Paul about this memorial of Christ's suffering, death and resurrection has been preserved unwaveringly in the life of Christians of these ancient churches. This fidelity to tradition is because Christians have experienced in this mystery a holy communion in the love of Christ and in their love for one another.

The Notre Dame College Center for Pastoral Theology and Ministry, together with its co-sponsors, presents this seminar with the hope that knowledge will lead to greater understanding and mutual respect.
