Orthodox and Catholics: Together yet Apart

*The Eleanor Malburg
Eastern Churches Seminar*

October 8-9, 2010

Notre Dame College
4545 College Road
South Euclid, Ohio 44121

This is the 26th annual Eastern Churches Seminar. It is open to all clergy, religious and laity of the Eastern and Western churches, and is especially helpful for religion teachers and pastoral ministers to aid their understanding of the Eastern traditions.

Orthodox and Catholics: Together yet Apart:

The world and contemporary currents in Christianity pose some real challenges to the relationship of our ancient churches. The views of contemporary culture on moral and social issues present opportunities for joint witness as regards the concerns of climate change and care of this earth, but also call for some clear joint clarification on issues of protection of human life and end of life. Also, within broader Christianity there are certain teachings and practices which are not consonant with the apostolic tradition which ancient church believers unanimously revere. The estrangement between Catholic and Orthodox believers of some thousand years has brought us to some differences in doctrine and practice that have yet to find satisfactory resolution with the present situation in the dialogue.

The Notre Dame College Center for Pastoral Theology and Ministry, together with its co-sponsors, presents this seminar with the hope that knowledge will lead to greater understanding and mutual respect.
